WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Dr. Charles A. Beard, widely known historian, today told the senate foreign relations committee, that, if words mean anything, President Roosevelt will draft labor and industry under terms of the lease lend bill. Voicing sympathy for Britain and suggesting aid, Dr. Beard nevertheless condemned the lease lend bill as a measure for undeclared war and dictatorship. His testimony came as the house prepared to start its second day of debate on the bill, with leaders indicating that they might accept further modifying amendments to the measure in order to assure overwhelming passage when a final vote is reached in the lower branch Friday night.

DUBLIN, Eire, Feb. 4.—Prime Minister Eamon De Valera of Eire received Wendell L. Willkie today after the American visitor made a hurried flight to the Irish capital from Manchester, England. After talking with De Valera, Willkie planned to fly back to London, preparatory to leaving tomorrow for the United States via Lisbon. Upon arriving in America, Willkie will testify before the senate foreign relations committee on the lend-lease bill. De Valera received Willkie in the prime minister's Dublin offices. Not To Exert Influence

Before arriving in Dublin, Willkie made it clear that he was not planning to exert any "influence" on De Valera. At the same time, it was expected the chief topic they would discuss would be the question of Eire's sea and air bases and the question of permitting Britain to use them. Willkie remained in Dublin only a short time. He left for Manchester by plane at 2:30 p. m. Willkie's talks with British war leaders have given him a full and complete picture of Britain's views concerning the position Eire has adopted toward the war. Willkie said he would discuss Eire's position with De Valera in the light (Continued On Page Two)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—With Britain pressing desperately for aid, President Roosevelt today redoubled efforts to speed the lease-lend program, developments coming on three fronts. They were: 1. Mr. Roosevelt held a lengthy White House conference with members of the so-called "high command"—Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of War Stimson, Secretary of Navy Knox, Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations. 2. Searching Party Will Start Trip To Reported Wreck Of Missing Plane

(International News Service)
MORTON, Wash., Feb. 4.—Two lumberjacks today prepared to lead a searching party of 60 men into dense wilderness near the base of Mount Huckleberry to a spot which they claimed was the final resting place of a missing McCord Field army bombing plane and its crew of seven men. The plane disappeared January 16. The men reported to army authorities they had discovered the two-engined B-17 Douglas bomber half embedded in the rugged mountainside. They said there was no sign of life. Maj. C. B. Overacker, commanding the 73rd bombardment squadron to which the crashed plane and crew were attached, and Lieut. W. A. Hatcher, Port Lewis, in charge of an army detachment, commanded the rescue and salvage expedition. Prohibit Photographs Their first injunction was to prohibit photographs of the wreckage. Britain Again Dodges Issue Of 'War Aims'

(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 4.—The British government today again dodged the issue of war aims during debate in the house of commons. In reply to a question from Geoffrey Mander, Liberal, Arthur Greenwood, minister, without portfolio said: "I regret I am not in a position to make any further statement at the present." Sir Archibald Southby, Conservative, was cheered when he interrupted: "Isn't there a more widespread interest in our winning the war first?" A clear exposition of war and peace aims Mander insisted, would be "the best way of winning it." Samuel Silverman, Laborite, said that it was most desirable to clear up current ambiguity regarding peace and war aims as soon as possible, especially in view of United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy's statement that he had failed to obtain information on the subject during his tenure of office here. "We cannot be held responsible for the statements of ambassadors, some of which certainly do not have the approval of their government," Greenwood said amid cheers.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 4.—G-men and the police department's sabotage squad today launched a combined probe of the mysterious explosion, apparently caused by a bomb, at a Philadelphia plant where a $250,000 defense order for machine tools is being rushed. The blast tore a hole in the roof of the Wiedemann Machine corporation's building, smashed windows in several nearby homes and shook the surrounding neighborhood last night. No one was injured. A similar explosion occurred in almost the same part of the plant last October, it was revealed by Otto P. Weidemann of Norristown, president of the corporation. Police officials said both blasts apparently were caused by "some sort of explosive" being hurled onto the roof from outside the plant.

Matsuoka said he wanted to make it clear to the United States that Japan has no desire to risk war with America for the sake of Japanese aspirations—establishment of a "new order" in East Asia. He promised to redouble his efforts to "make the United States understand Japan's real intentions"—and also Japan's "real power."

Submarine Sinks Two Troop Ships Carrying Italians

(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 4.—An unidentified submarine sank two Italian troop transports near the Yugoslavian island of Vis on Sunday, an exchange telegraph (British) dispatch from the Albanian frontier said today. One of the sunken transports was identified as the Vittorio Veneto, according to the dispatch, and the other was believed to be the Valeria Nicole. The Vittorio Veneto is a vessel of 4,595 tons. (EDITOR'S NOTE: No Italian vessel is listed in Lloyd's register of shipping under the name of Valeria Nicole.) The dispatch added that 60 Italian soldiers washed ashore at a nearby island had been attached to the auxiliary Italian warship Armatto. It was lots of fun looking over the maps, and figuring time it would take, to fit here and there from the sand of the beach to the towns overlooking a lake, and to talk of the nights underneath the tall palms or the oranges lush on the trees, and of driving sans coat through a copper hued sun with your head sticking out in the breeze. But just talking is one thing and making your plans, but about time you think you're away, kersock something happens and that ends the trip, its bright twenty-seven today.

Report Negotiations Pend On Jamaica

(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 4.—Negotiations of an undisclosed nature are under way regarding the British island of Jamaica in the West Indies, possibly involving its ultimate sale or lease to the United States, it was revealed in the House of Commons today. Several members pressed for assurance that the House would be given an opportunity to discuss the situation in detail before the Jamaican constitution is altered. Others wanted a definite promise that neither Jamaica nor any other British possession would be sold or leased to any "foreign power." George Hall, undersecretary of state for colonies, told all questioners that no statement would be forthcoming pending the outcome of present conferences in London. This was the first intimation that any conferences regarding Jamaica—one of the seven British western hemisphere possessions on which the United States has leased sites for naval and air bases in exchange for 50 American destroyers—are in progress.

Record State Budget Is Recommended

Governor James Presents Figures

Two Year Outlay Of $613,108,898 Is Recommended To State Legislature

SPECIAL TAXES TO BE CONTINUED

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—The general assembly opened consideration today of the state budget for the next two years with a record outlay of $613,108,898 recommended by Gov. Arthur H. James.

The state will close the present biennium on May 31 with a deficit of at least $70,900,171, perhaps more, depending on relief needs for the remaining four months. Provision is made in the total outlay for the next biennium for payment of this deficit.

The deficiency will consist of $66,000,000 borrowed from state funds for relief and approximately $5,000,000 in deficiency appropriations for distressed school districts.

Total Budget
The total budget for the 1941-43 biennium is set by Governor James at $642,208,727.05, representing normal expenditures exclusive of the deficit, which will be paid next June from money obtained through the sale of tax anticipation notes. No new taxes were recommended.

This compares with a $537,058,912.50 budget recommended by the governor two years ago. An additional $11,850,000 was appropriated by a special session of the legislature in May, 1939, bringing total expenditures for the present biennium to $609,908,912.50.

This will be increased still further before the present biennium ends because the governor recommended another deficiency appropriation for relief totaling $14,500,000 to be added to the $193,000,000 already appropriated. Present indications are that still another deficiency appropriation will be needed later.

Relief Budget
For the next biennium, which opens June 1, the governor recommended a relief budget of $131,390,000. Increasing employment indicates that this sum will be sufficient, he told the legislature. The new relief budget represents a decrease of at least $76,000,000 from present indicated expenditures for the 1939-41 biennium.

The governor recommended the re-enactment of the special emergency taxes, first enacted in 1935 by the Democratic Earle administration. He estimated the revenue from these special levies would total $184,575,500 for the next two years, a $17,340,000 increase over the present biennium.

The special taxes to be re-enacted include levies on cigarettes, gasoline, personal property, corporate net income, gross receipts from transportation, power and transmission business, domestic and out-of-state loans, bank and trust company shares, and liquor.

The governor predicted that there would be an increase in revenue during the next biennium of approximately $25,000,000 from present taxes.

The chewing gum business dates back to 1860, when it was begun on an outlay of $55. The American public now spends more than $1,000,000 a week on chewing gum.

of the experiences of Holland, Belgium and other countries and also would explore the Irish attitude toward American aid to Britain.

Discuss Attitude
In addition, he stressed he would discuss fully DeValera's attitude and views regarding possible American convoys for British ships and also the possibility of removal of the American neutrality act ban on the use of Irish ports by United States vessels.

"I will not make an effort to influence Mr. De Valera in any way," Willkie said.

"I came over to ask questions and listen. I want to talk to Mr. De Valera across a desk and hear everything he has to tell me, including many things of the most vital interest to the United States."

Willkie said he was anxious to ascertain the trend of popular opinion in Eire toward the war and toward Britain in the light of the recent German bombings of Dublin and other localities in Eire and the recent German mining of Eire's coastal waters.

EDITOR'S NOTE: A dispatch from London said that because of his sudden trip to Dublin, it was considered improbable that Willkie would be able to see King George VI and Queen Elizabeth of Britain.

King Haakon of Norway and Queen Wilhelmina of Holland before returning to the United States.

Willkie refused to comment on the nature of discussion with De Valera.

"I came as a private citizen seeking information," Willkie explained to newspapermen.

Eire government officials likewise refused to reveal the subjects discussed.

BERLIN QUARTERS DECLARE LAVAL TO RETURN TO POWER

Vichy increased today after Laval held an important conference in Paris with French Navy Minister Admiral Jean Darlan.

Dismissal of Laval from the Vichy regime last December by Premier Marshal Henri Philippe Petain precipitated a Franco-German crisis which still has not been fully settled. Today it appeared that the entire situation would reach a climax and there were reports that Laval may return to Vichy today, possibly to talk with Petain.

EDITOR'S NOTE: London newspapers were filled with conflicting reports regarding Darlan's talk with Laval. Some suggested Laval may be appointed as a Liaison agent between Germany and the Vichy government. Others said Laval may be included in a French triumvirate under Petain.

(The London Daily Telegraph in a Lisbon dispatch claimed Petain had informed Chancellor Hitler that if Germany takes over unoccupied France, the French fleet and empire would reenter the war on the side of Britain.)

According to reports in Paris, if Laval returns to the French government Petain will have to reorganize his cabinet drastically.

Laval formerly was vice premier and foreign minister. When he was ousted, he was succeeded as foreign minister by Pierre-Etienne Flandin.

PRESIDENT IS SEEKING SPEED ON BRITISH AID

Friday night. So anxious were congressional leaders to dispatch the bill to the Senate with a thumping majority, that there were hints that further restrictions on Mr. Roosevelt's vast powers might be accepted.

Sees Serious Situation

3. The Senate foreign relations committee—still holding hearings on its version of the lease-lend measure—listened to Major General Fielding Eliot, widely-known military expert, declare that the nation is faced with an emergency so serious that it may mean war, while Dr. Charles A. Beard, famed historian, played the measure as likely to cause both labor and industry to be drafted.

Mr. Roosevelt summoned his defense advisers as authoritative sources disclosed that there is increasing worry in administration circles that unless the aid program is rushed to enactment, it will be too late to help offset the threatened German invasion of Britain.

In House, leaders were confident that passage of the measure is assured, while on the Senate side, the foreign relations committee expected to complete its hearings next Monday with Wendell L. Willkie as the final witness. Willkie is now in the British Isles to get a first-hand view of the conflict, and is slated to return to the United States by clipper plane this week.

In the hearings before the Senate group today, both Major Eliot and Dr. Beard declared in favor of aid for Britain, but each suggested that curbs on proposed presidential powers in the bill should be invoked.

Major Eliot proposes that super-congressional executive—civilian committees be established as a check-rein on presidential powers.

were said to have been registered on a large hangar and administration buildings.

Planes Bombed In Hangars
War planes in front of the hangars were machine-gunned by diving British raiders and several were damaged, according to the British communiqué.

Other British bombers meanwhile attacked a Fascist motor transport column west of Castel Benito, causing considerable damage, according to the official account. Although they covered round-trip distances of 1,200 miles or more, all the British planes returned to their bases, it was claimed.

Some 2,000 miles south of the Libyan war front, meanwhile, British forces occupied the important Eritrea highway junction town of Barentu, while Italy's army in that colony was being driven in a general retreat toward the Red sea.

LEASE-LEND BILL IS CONDEMNED BY FAMOUS HISTORIAN

is prepared to carry war into Europe and Asia and "thus set the whole world on fire."

(4) The bill "will engage our government in war activity," and "jeopardize everything we cherish in the United States."

(5) The president can give away armed forces of the nation or use them anywhere under the bill.

(6) He can turn American navy yards into naval bases and thus create areas of warfare in the U. S.

Suggests Limits

Dr. Beard suggested that the legislation should limit the amount and terms of credit, with the amount fixed beyond careful estimates of British needs. The British, he said, should pledge their assets throughout the world in repayment.

Then, he said, the United States should give Britain full power to draw on the capacity of American industry. Straight loans to American industry could be made as an alternative, he said.

"By the definitions of section two of the bill," he said, "every article or commodity, all resources and powers of production, which the president has regarded as for defense, are placed unreservedly at his (the president's) command."

"In other words, he may use and dispose of, as he likes, every machine, every tool, every ship, every industry, and the labor of every able bodied person in any way that he deems desirable, under the loose, indeed limitless, phrase 'national defense.'"

Wilson Asked No Such Powers

"In the midst of a declared war already raging, President Wilson called upon congress for no such powers, no such surrender of its constitutional prerogatives."

"Even in the midst of a frightful civil war, testing whether this nation could endure, President Lincoln demanded of congress no such subject capitulation and humiliation."

"There can be no doubt about this. The bill would subject all the labor energies and all the wealth of the United States to the president's personal orders issued at his discretion. Only the lines of the poet seem appropriate to describe such power."

"Without dimensions, where length, breadth and height."

"And time and place are lost."

Referring to words in the bill, which give the president authority to "otherwise dispose of" defense articles, he said:

"If words mean anything, he may give it away and use the armed forces of the United States and carry it anywhere on terms which he alone may prescribe."

In the house, meanwhile, discussion continued on amendments which might find favor in the eyes of administration leaders who are anxious that the bill pass the lower branch by a big majority. Foes of the bill claimed to be greatly encouraged.

SOUTH SIDERS HAVE ANNUAL BANQUET

Vitus church, and City Controller Sid Lockley were introduced during the program.

During a special meeting held at the conclusion of the program, the South Side Civic Organization was organized. Thomas Solomon, president; Officers elected include:

Attorney Joseph Leta, Jr., president; Mrs. Lena Ciarella, vice president; Miss Elizabeth Amadeo, recording secretary; Mrs. Samuel Richards, financial secretary, and Mrs. Julius Cobb, treasurer.

QUEEN ELIZABETH

Queen Elizabeth was not the divinely sweet creature that the historians and poems of her time presented her. Her temper was as red-hot as her hair. She sometimes drank too much and at the slightest provocation, showed by her actions in anger that she forgot she was a queen and a lady. She had the questionable habit of raving at her maids and on occasions struck, pinched and kicked them.

Lloyd of 927 Winslow avenue, who is spending the winter months at Fort Pierce, Fla., recently caught the biggest red snapper of the season at this spot. He was accompanied on the fishing expedition by Mrs. Lloyd who assisted in the capture.

This morning was a lot colder than many folks suspected, particularly those who did not look at the thermometer before starting out. During the night, the mercury fell to six degrees above zero, but the air was perfectly still and the coldness was not greatly felt.

City employees are engaged today in the task of digging the ice off some of the downtown alleys. Ice froze to a depth of several inches on some of the alleys as a result of the thawing and freezing of the past week, following the heavy snows.

THE READING CIRCLE PROGRAM INTERESTING

An enjoyable meeting of the Reading Circle was held on Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. D. Long, Emerson avenue, with a splendid representation of members participating.

After the short routine period, Mrs. M. M. Ingham gave a fine paper on "New Orleans." Musical features, including a group of Negro spirituals, were contributed by three members of the Elm Street Y. W. C. A.: Mrs. Bernice Weber, Mrs. Otha Jackson and Mrs. Thelma Stewart. They sang "Standin' In The Need Of The Lord"; "Steal Away" and "I Know The Lord." This feature was in charge of Mrs. J. F. Reutz, and it contributed much to the pleasure of their afternoon's entertainment.

Mrs. Oscar Sheaffer received "Upper Mississippi" by Walter Ravengrath, which was well received. A moment of silence was observed for one of their beloved and faithful members, Miss Ella McBurney, who has passed on. The deceased had been active in The Reading Circle for a number of years, and will be greatly missed by her associates.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, February 14, with Mrs. Chris Clark, Northview avenue, hostess.

N. B. B. Club

Thursday evening the N. B. B. club members will meet with Mrs. J. Caligore of 516 1/2 10th street.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS NICOL SMITH MONDAY

The Burma Road with its romance and tragedy, was graphically described and pictured before an audience of the Woman's club when they met in the Highland U. P. church Monday afternoon, by Nicol Smith, a new kind of explorer, armed with a camera. The Burma Road is an engineering feat worthy of modern efforts. Connecting Yun-Nan-Fu in the province of Indo-China with Lashio in Burma, the 750 miles of gravel begins at sea level while the rise at its northern terminus reaches a height of 16,000 feet. Two hundred fifty thousand natives, using most primitive methods, literally crushing the stone with bare hands, were used in the construction at the expense of thousands of lives. Women took up the task when men fell out in this gigantic effort to save China's life line.

Mr. Smith's adventures along the fabled Burma Road, Marco Polo's ancient route from the West to the East is a signal achievement since he has brought back the first pictures of the country along the old caravan route, the most scenic part of China. Ancient temples and shrines along the way, vivid sequence of life and customs, of remote and mountainous provinces are unforgettable.

In spite of Japan's acquisition of three naval bases on the Island of Hainan and similar concessions made by the Vichy government in French Indo-China, she has been unable to retain control of the important railway and tunnels. Chang Kai Chek's army has fearlessly destroyed these.

During the business session presided over by the president, Mrs. John E. Elliott a recommendation was made to the State Federation of Women's clubs to take concerted action on the boycott of Japanese goods.

The difference in DIAMONDS makes the difference in price

Before you buy a diamond at a "bargain" price, make sure the quality is not "bargain", too. Merely buying a lower grade diamond at a lower price doesn't save you any money. In fact it only leads to disappointment later when you find that the quality of your diamond is not what you thought.

Before you buy a diamond we suggest that you drop in and have a talk with our diamond experts. They'll be glad to explain the difference in diamonds. There is no obligation to purchase when you come in to look.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph.D.

OPPORTUNITY FOR YOUTH IS BRIGHT

Many youths have opportunity now scarcely dreamed of a few years ago. Some promising, serious-minded ones are seizing hold of these opportunities with eagerness.

Some youths who have found jobs and are earning good wages are not lured into buying an automobile at a dollar down. These young people are not going to buy a car at all for the present, nor waste their time and money at just having a "good time out every night." They are going to invest in self-improvement, a la Benjamin Franklin.

A neighbor had dropped in to visit with me recently. Said he, "I got a job last summer the day after I graduated from high school. Two nights a week I go to school."

"Isn't it a pretty heavy program for you?" I inquired.

"Not so heavy," he replied as he faced me with his earnest brown eyes. "It's just two nights a week. It takes no more energy than to be out at fun and not much more money. I study most evenings though I do go out some. I figure I can get a business education while I work."

Admires Modern Youth

He looked so fine and handsome. He had developed much in self-confidence and personality since the days when he used to stop in a few years ago for my son on the way to high school.

I do admire those youths who are going to school while they work. Most of them have the opportunity but those who have no night school in reach can take home study courses by mail.

Within a few months the vocational schools made available in the rapidly growing defense program will open without cost to any teenage boy or girl, man or woman who cares to learn a useful skill or fit himself or herself for a vocation—and at rural as well as city high schools. Any one interested should enquire at once of the local high school principal or superintendent of schools.

Many Opportunities

Then with so many young men progressing in fields of promise there will be many opportunities to go on learning, through courses in English, literature, a foreign language, economics, journalism, home-making and the like, and even to pursue under their own direction a systematic reading course. The American army is also giving young soldiers a chance to continue their studies. Parents and close friends of those soldier-youths who induce them to choose to go on learning while in the army will be doing them a good turn.

"Tips to Students," and a "Selected List of Books on How to Study" may be had by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. In advising punishment of the young child by assigning him to sit in a chair where he can be seen, why do you insist on a definite time instead of "Till I tell you to get down?"

A. The clock has no nerves. No use to argue with it, plead or cry. It just ticks on and on and makes the penalty definite and certain.

The World and the Mud Puddles

ALL ARE INTERESTED

It is in keeping with the plain old law of supply and demand that the American press gives far more front page space to news on national and local finance than was given a generation ago. A generation ago such news was restricted to the financial page in the back of the paper—while today changes in prices, in public borrowings, in treasury statements, and international exchange, are of general interest.

Since 1900, America's population has increased sixty per cent—but in that time the number of persons owning life insurance policies has increased 650 per cent to a total of 65,000,000! More than 40,000,000 citizens now have a stake in Social Security Act benefits, and 44,000,000 have savings accounts.

Thus by tens of millions Americans have become capitalists in the true sense of the word—with personal interest in the maintenance of our economic system on a solid basis, and with a direct stake in the soundness of our currency and financial institutions.

Spring is the boy
Summer the youth.
Autumn is joy
Ripened by truth.

Winter's the cold
Season of snow,
Like a man old
Waiting to go.

Summer's red rose,
Birds on the wing

Old man, alone,

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 5:20. Sun rises tomorrow 7:06.

We read of a man who wrote a book of his own life. A book like that would be all right to be read after a man is dead. Some of the things he had done during his life would be appreciated then.

I know a man who fell off the water wagon and broke his resolution.

We heard of a man who tried to stop a man from beating his wife and they both turned on him and gave him a beating. Never interfere with a man beating his wife.

I know an automobile driver who raced a train to a crossing—it was a dead heat.

No matter what Mr. Wilkie says or does he will get rezved by some. Mr. Wilkie is not letting politics interfere with his Americanism.

ON THE EMPLOYERS' TIME

A genial employer one evening remarked that the eighth wonder of the world was finding an employee in the company's restroom when the whistle blows.

The abuse of the restroom privilege by office and factory workers would be funny if it was not so costly. The scheming by which some employees manage to use the restroom on the employers' time is devilish. If these people arrive for work ahead of the starting bell, they will leisurely read the morning paper until all hands are called to work, and then they will stroll off for their smoke and sit-down.

Once an employer interrupted the morning and afternoon work-periods for a three-minute rest-period. At the end of three months he discontinued the practice because he noticed that the chisels delayed their visit to the restroom until the rest-period ended.

"It's a safe calculation," he says, "that out of 50 people not more than 48 are ever at work at one time. Two are in the restroom."

Even if we could see ourselves as others see us we'd still be in doubt.

President of the London Board of Trade gives parliament a written report on Britain's corset trade, since the report embraced figures.

Very often we find fault with people not for what they are, but for what they are not.

Then we pause to sympathize with the youngster who thinks his father must have been a regular scamp as a boy.

"He knows just what to ask when he thinks I've been up to something," explains the lad.

Burglars plan some of their best jobs in the quiet of the jailhouse.

There always have been chislers. Long ago we knew of a case where those taking up the collections in church had to be removed.

Heard in a home:
Husband: "There's plenty of time for Ethel to think of getting married. Let her wait until the right man comes along."
Wife: "Dear, I don't think there is any need of her waiting; we didn't."

Statesmen do everything possible for the public if it will help their political cause.

Gambling is only a sin when you hold the wrong number.

Only one president of the United States has ever been a bachelor.

James Buchanan. Five presidents have been married twice. Tyler, Fillmore, Benjamin Harrison, Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson. George Washington married a widow with four children.

What do you think when you come up to a couple of people who have been talking and they stop talking when you get to them?

Even meat dealers in Ohio were arrested for selling adulterated hamburgers. Wonder what they used that hasn't been used?

Several deaths have already been reported on the dream highway. It seems no roads can be built safe enough for some people.

It isn't true that all the day's tragedies are smeared over the front pages of the newspapers. If you don't believe it, just note that the racing results are found tucked back in the sports pages.

When people live long enough to see their children getting 40 or 50 years old it sure brings back a lot of memories.

No grandfather worked as hard in his youth as he tells his grandsons, nor was grandmother the glamour girl she tries to tell around she was.

In some places there is much complaint about the present relief system. No one wants to see any person suffer, but a lot of people do not like to support chislers—and there are many of those birds.

Good Taste

By E. A. Patent Office

Answer: Let him do all of the ice-breaking. He should be polite and courteous to you at all times; should greet you cordially when you come in each morning and thank you whenever you hand him anything or do him a special service. But you should not expect him to rise whenever you enter his presence or to introduce you to his guests even while you are in his office with them.

If he is a man of dignity and importance, associated in the same office with other executives of an establishment of high standing, he will be embarrassed by any attitude on your part that might suggest to his colleagues or the employees of the organization; that his relationship to you is more than strictly official. If he is a highly-bred man, his anxiety on this point will be chiefly for the protection of your own reputation. Therefore, as you get to know each other better, do not presume upon his increasing friendliness by allowing yourself easier hours or other privileges not given to the other girls in the organization.

Question: Please tell me a simply way to announce my daughter's engagement at a party.—A.

Answer: Give a luncheon, a tea, a dinner or an evening supper party. Assuming that you will choose the last-mentioned, I suggest the following: Menu: Cold, sliced meat, a salad, a beverage, small fancy cakes, nuts and candy.

Buy some plain cards, about the size of a visiting card. Write on each: "Announcing the engagement of Miss Anne Smith and Mr. John Jones." Place one of these cards, enclosed in an envelope to fit it, in front of each guest's plate at the supper table. If the engaged pair have visiting cards, both should be placed in each envelope instead of the plain card mentioned. Nothing need be written on them. They simply will be an announcement. If you serve beverages, the father of the bride should propose a toast to his newly-engaged daughter and her fiancé. You, your daughter and her fiancé should greet the guests as they arrive and to those not having previously met the young man introduce him as "Anne's fiancé." It is not in very good taste to go to any novel or elaborate means of announcing an engagement. And no general announcement need be made at all during the evening.

"Aw, you're cheating," rejoined the other. "You've got your hands in your pockets."

Wonder who set that style of short overcoats for men? All some have to do to be in style is to cut a couple of feet off the bottoms of their overcoats.

As Americans, we gotta remain civilized, even if it takes our last dollar and destroys hope of getting another. We gotta save democracy. Above all else, we gotta preserve politics, so we can continue to lie about one another, like ladies and gentlemen.

Two newly born babies lay side by side in the hospital nursery a boy and a girl. Said the boy:

"Hello, who are you?"

"I'm a baby girl. Who are you?"

"I'm a baby boy."

"How do you know you are a boy?"

The boy pulled up his little dress and said: "Look—blue booties."

Discuss Federation Of English Speakers
Idea Is Impractical But It Makes Noise
Federal Union, Inc. Already Incorporated

By CHARLES P. STEWART

(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Federation of all the world's English-speaking countries is beginning to be seriously talked about. An organization called Federal Union actually has incorporated itself to boost the idea from headquarters in Washington. I think that Dorothy Thompson, the columnist, had more than any other single individual to do with giving the notion tangibility. Now that the scheme's taken concrete form, however, quite a sizable group of intellectuals are associating themselves with it.

The proposition was pretty hazy at first, but since then it's been developed into an extremely definite plan.

To be included in the suggested hook-up are the United States, the people of John Bull's own island, the Irish, the Canadians, the Australians, the New Zealanders and the South African Union. They're to be tied together just as our 48 states, our couple of territories and miscellaneous insular possessions are. The aggregation's constitution's to be a copy of ours.

The scheduled program's well meant, of course, but most of the practical statesmen I've discussed it with in Washington's legislative and executive circles refer to it as cuckoo.

It's agreed that the nations and dominions mentioned might combine on a treaty basis, but that isn't what Federal Union, Incorporated wants. It wants to merge the whole collection into an all and exclusively English-speaking United States.

Now, who'd be the executive head of the concern? And who what and where would its Congress or parliament or what-you-may-call-it be?

President Or King?

Would the amalgamation jointly elect a president-over-all or pick out a hereditary king? Would it choose its supreme legislative body in the same fashion?

Under the contemplated merger it appears that the president of the U. S. A. would have the federated status of a mere state governor and Congress that of a state legislature only. And the king of England would lapse into the rating of just a sub-king, with a collective president or some other boss executive ranking him. Parliament would become nothing but a local legislative body, too. The British dominions' respective governments likewise would be defeated materially.

A federation, as distinguished from just a treaty arrangement, certainly would have to have a central authority overhead. We surely never would consent to recognition of the English king and parliament as that kind of an authority over us. And, just as surely, the English wouldn't subordinate their king and parliament to our president and Congress. I doubt that the British dominions would submit to a like subordination, either, but it's a cinch that neither we nor the English would, anyway.

Well, then, our federation would have to have a collectively-selected chief executive and legislature and maybe courts also.

And when we (the entire British-American alignment of us) came to making these selections, the British would be as much entitled to votes as ourselves. And perhaps a British executive chief and legislature majority would win. Is it likely that we'd stand for that? Or that the British would stand for it if we won?

Free Trade?

Moreover, if our English-speaking union's constitution's to be a copy of our Yankee one, we'll have to have free trade among us and no immigration restrictions.

And what about our Pan-American policy?

Federal Union, Incorporated, doesn't figure on taking the new world Latin countries into the family for English isn't their language and this thing, if put across, is to be an English-speaking federation. Besides, it's to be a federation of democracies, and several of the Latin Americans are democratic nominally alone.

In short, the whole idea's cockeyed, our executive and legislative circles of it say.

Nevertheless, it makes considerable noise.

OTTAWA—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King asks Canadians to make new financial sacrifices:

"Within a few weeks we are certain to witness war as the world has never known it before."

CHARLESTOWN, S. C.—Industrialist Solomon R. Guggenheim urges government to encourage industry:

"I should like to see a greater amount of confidence brought back to the great industrialists of the country."

DENVER—Chinese financial expert Dr. H. W. Baerensprung discounts Japan's importance in the Axis:

"Sweet Reasonableness"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. THOSE who recently have talked with the President report that he is in a serious mood, exceedingly anxious not to have his lend-lease bill emasculated or delayed; willing to make what he regards as "reasonable concessions"; unresponsive of suggestions that he erred—first, in asking too much; second, in failing to consult the minority leaders before presentation of the measure.

In proof of this attitude are cited his acquiescence in various proposed amendments; his inclusion among legislative leaders with whom he has conferred Senator McNary, Representative Wadsworth and other Republicans, and an absence of that rather hilarious, high-strung gaiety which quite a few have found made conferences with him something of a strain. In other words, the situation seems to have changed Mr. Roosevelt's temperament—for the time being at least. Within the last week he has evinced a willingness to compromise, conciliate and confer not characteristic of him since he has been President. If he continues these lines of what some are calling "sweet reasonableness," the progress of the bill will be rapid and the futility of its opponents apparent.

It is understood that this change in Mr. Roosevelt is largely due to the counsel of some personal friends, one of whom happens to be a Republican. How long it will last and how far it will go is, of course, uncertain; but it is marked enough at the moment to encourage the hope that perhaps this "sweet reasonableness" may be useful in curing some of the more fundamental troubles with the defense machinery. The chief of these was interestingly presented the other day in an article by Messrs. Alsop and Kintner, who wrote of "sweet reasonableness," which is going on between the "factions" within the defense setup—to wit, the businessmen on the one hand and the labor leaders and New Dealers on the other.

According to these voracious and informed columnists, a "truce" has been effected under the terms of which Mr. Isador Lubin, radical young economist of the labor group, is to become an adviser of Mr. Stettinius's priorities division and Mr. Murray of the CIO, and Mr. Green of the AFL are to serve on the production-control board with Mr. Biggers. In return, Mr. Hillman is to have a businessman as one of his aides. Thus, it is explained, an "exchange of hostages" has been arranged. The labor people and the New Dealers are to have

Army Is Spreading Defenses Around Delaware River

Vital River Valley Industries To Be Protected By Ring Of Forts

(International News Service)
WILMINGTON, Del.—Quietly and thoroughly, U. S. Army authorities are spreading a network of impregnable defenses around the vital Delaware River Valley embracing arsenals, a navy yard and shipbuilding plants.

Although officials decline to reveal specific plans and procedure, evidence is plentiful that unprecedented protective bulwarks against enemies from without and within are being provided on both sides of the Delaware River.

Until recently, the vital valley area was without defense against aircraft, and only old-type harbor defense guns were emplaced in the region. Now, however, the Second Corps of the First Army has located its headquarters in Wilmington.

Army engineers are making surveys for gun positions; a fortification division of the Engineer Corps has been set up and Fort Du Pont is being expanded to house as many as 2,400 men. The Port will become the active center of operations for the 261st Coast Artillery Harbor Defense, Delaware National Guard and for the 21st Coast Artillery.

their fingers in the "businessmen's pie" and the latter to be given an occasional touch of the "labor pie."

TO those concerned about the success of the defense program, this is a rather horrid picture. It indicates not a united but a divided nation. There is nothing about it to convey the idea of singleness of purpose or unified effort. On the contrary, it reveals the existence of two hostile classes within the defense organization, neither of which trusts the other. The worst thing about this idea is that it is true, and every informed person here knows it.

There is no conceivable way in which a setup under such conditions can function fully and effectively.

THE hope is that the same—or similar—wise counselors who prevailed upon Mr. Roosevelt to confer and compromise on the lend-lease bill will now be able to convince him that it was a basic mistake to have conceived his defense organization as one in which labor must balance industry, each watching the other so that neither can achieve an advantage or gain too much credit. From the start that appears to have been his conception. Indeed, always looking at it from the labor angle, that seems to have been his conception of the country.

Instead of regarding the country as united and the emergency as wiping out classes, he chooses to regard it as so divided into classes that the representative of one should not be put in a position of importance without being balanced by a representative of the other, and that neither should be given full power or responsibility.

OBVIOUSLY, that was the way in which his Defense Commission was first framed, and the above-quoted article makes it clear that, instead of diminishing, class distinctions have increased. The result is that today the President has an awkward, two-headed organization—an industrialist being offset by a labor leader with "cosmical powers." This scheme of balancing class against class is carried out all down the line, so that the most friendly journalists feel compelled to write of it in warlike terms, using such words as "truce," "hostages" and "hostile factions" to describe the situation.

IT would be pretty fine if the President could be convinced that this business of balancing one against the other is all wrong. If he can be convinced it is better to look at the country as a whole and, in this crisis, select men because of ability, character and experience instead of for reasons of class leadership, the national interests will be greatly promoted. If he can be won to this view and persuaded to reorganize his defense machine along these lines, sweeping aside all this class nonsense and seeking only the best men, regardless of whether they represent labor or business—then an end can be put to the clogging of the wheels by this insistence that equal recognition must be accorded the "hostile factions." A more hampering notion is hard to imagine. There will be cause for rejoicing if the President can rid himself of it—but the chances are against his doing that.

Influenza and pneumonia combined cause 103 percent of all deaths among Negroes, according to the census, while they were responsible for only 71 percent of all deaths among whites.

USE OF TANKS IN WAR DATES BACK TO YEAR 800 B. C.

(International News Service)

CHICAGO—As modern as an army tank might be a good simile in these days, but it wouldn't mean what the simile-maker thought it meant.

For back in the good old "quiet" days of 800 B. C. the Assyrians fought from vehicles that used the same protective theory that is behind the modern tank.

Dr. Neilson C. Debovoise, research associate of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, said he has learned that Assyrian archers were put in mobile shelters made of wood and skins. The archers, a dozen to a "tank," popped out of turrets to speed their arrows against the enemy, while an ancient counterpart of London's fire warden sat by ready to douse water on any fire that the enemy might start on the "tank" with incendiary torches.

I'M FIRMLY CONVINCED

Yes, I'm convinced that there's nothing more satisfying than an oven dinner cooked by my wife in her new electric range. There's no better combination than a good cook and an electric range. My wife says cooking is simple and easy on an electric range, too. She actually enjoys cooking now!

You, too, will be convinced that electric cooking cannot be beat. It's the modern means to thrilling and satisfactory cooking. You'll like its gleaming white beauty in your kitchen. So easy to own, too!

Legislature Prepares For Flood Of Bills

By JOHN PAGET
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—Pennsylvania's legislative machinery began to move more swiftly today as the commonwealth's lawmakers prepared to flood committees with hundreds of bills dependent upon the state's budget.

In the house, Democratic Majority Floor Leader Leo A. Achtermann, Monroe, and Robert J. Woodside, minority leader from Dauphin, were reported ready to co-sponsor a non-political measure aimed at establishing a state council for defense headed by the governor to direct the activities of local councils throughout the state.

As legislators studied the $613,000, 000 biennial outlay recommended by Gov. Arthur H. James, the legislative reference bureau was ready to draft scores of appropriation bills that legislators have held in abeyance pending the administration's budget suggestions.

Despite the fact that the so-called "big bills" and administration measures have not been introduced as yet, legislative committees continued to receive more than two-score proposals at yesterday's session.

Rep. Charles A. Auker, Blair Republican, sponsored a bill in the house seeking a $15,000 appropriation for a "fair and impartial" investigation of alleged subversive teachings in the commonwealth's schools.

Would Amend Old Age Laws
Rep. Matthew J. Welsh, Fayette Democrat, introduced a measure to amend existing old age laws to provide $40 monthly to Pennsylvanians over 60. Persons owning real estate valued at more than $5000 would not be eligible.

A similar measure co-sponsored by Edward C. Schwab and James J. Malloy, Luzerne Democrats, proposed a pension to widowed mothers with eight dollars monthly additional allowed for each child.

The Republican-controlled senate passed its first bill when it approved 32 to 15 a Democratic-sponsored measure to increase the membership of the joint state government commission from 17 to 24. The measure was sent to the house for consideration.

Under the proposal of Sen. John H. Dent, Westmoreland Democrat, the committee would be composed of 12 Republicans and 12 Democrats. A misunderstanding that began during the special session of 1940 was ended when the Department of Public Assistance furnished the senate the extent of collections made under the $2000 reimbursement agreement required that property-owning relief applicants are compelled to sign before benefits are granted.

The report was requested in a resolution sponsored by Sen. John J. Haluska, Cambria Democrat, who has frequently termed the $2000 bond "unjust and unfair."

Asks For Action
Immediately after the state relief authorities furnished the report, Haluska asked that a resolution be adopted asking the Public Assistance Department not to require relief applicants to cancel life insurance policies in excess of $500 before benefits are granted. The resolution was referred to committee.

Sen. Franklin Spencer Edmonds, Philadelphia Republican, introduced a bill that proposed control of municipal authorities by the Public Utility Commission.

Under Edmonds' proposal, municipalities seeking to purchase a utility must have the purchase price approved by the P. U. C.

The senate adopted unanimously Edmonds' resolution calling for a complete survey of the accomplishments of the general state authority including costs, bonds issued and the rates of interest.

STATE SENATE STUDIES REPORT

Report On $2,000 Reimbursement Bond For Public Assistance Is Presented

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—The state senate today studied a 19-page report showing that the $2,000 reimbursement bond required by the department of public assistance from property owners was signed by 424 individuals who received $131,359.49 in benefits over a three-month "sample" period.

The report added that "the amount of payments accepted in full settlement fell considerably short of this figure, totaling $89,575.45, or 68.2 per cent—the unpaid balance reflecting instances in which "the unencumbered value of property was less than the amount reimbursable."

The average amount of assistance reimbursable to the department, the report stated, was $309.81, while the average total accepted in full payment was $211.26.

The information was furnished the senate upon the request of Senator John J. Haluska, Cambria Democrat, who has termed the reimbursement agreement as "unfair."

In conclusion, the report asserted that the $2,000 bond was "practical, economical and advantageous," and that the judgment of the department was that "no change should be made in the policy of requiring reimbursement agreements from owners of real property as a condition for the eligibility for assistance."

The census bureau says that almost twice as many people die from motor-vehicle accidents as from the following causes of death put together: Typhoid and paratyphoid fever, measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, diphtheria, epidemic cerebrospinal meningitis and malaria.

Nests of barn swallows and cliff swallows are made of pellets of mud cemented together with a secretion from the birds' salivary glands.

TECHNOCRACY HAS NATIONAL DEFENSE PLAN OF ITS OWN

(International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 18 — Technocracy has a national defense plan, its founder, Howard Scott, revealed in Kansas City.

It consists of control of the entire North American continent; 3-year compulsory training for both men and women from 18 to 21 years of age, supervised by a standing armed force of 1,000,000 engineer-mechanics; conscription of all national corporate wealth, transportation and communication facilities and the operating facilities and personnel of the nation's manufacturing industries.

Technocracy has more members than ever before, Scott said, and maintains 600 offices in the United States and Canada.
"Any attempt to defend the United States by itself should be viewed as treason," he said. "Any attempts to defend the entire western hemisphere is in the same category. For the western hemisphere can't be defended. If we have adequate defense of continental North America, we can protect the western hemisphere but not defend it."

When the Roman Emperor Hadrian rebuilt Jerusalem after its destruction in 70 A. D., he changed its name to Eelia Capitolina, and forbade any Jew to dwell in the city.

HOW YOU CAN GET A $100 LOAN REPAYED IN 12 INSTALLMENTS AT A COST OF 5¢ A DAY

You can get $100 to pay old debts or other expenses if you can repay $9.75 a month for 12 months—No endorsers or guarantors needed—A simple, private way to borrow.

HAVE unusual expenses caught you short of ready cash? Do you need money to pay old bills? If you have a steady job, you can readily borrow $25 to $100—and repay in small monthly installments.

Suppose that you need $100. Find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across picking out the monthly payment you wish to make. 12 monthly installments of $9.75 each, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full. The cost, in this case, averages less than 5¢ a day.

You may prefer smaller payments. Only $6.97 a month for 18 months will also repay a $100 loan. The amount you borrow and the time you take to repay it determines the cost. You can borrow $25 for two months, for instance, for only 9¢.

Installments in the table include all charges at Household's rate of 2 1/2%.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

BED-WETTING
Frequent letters coming to my office indicate that bed-wetting is a problem disturbing numerous mothers.

It isn't at all uncommon for a child to wet the bed when he is very young. It may even continue to wet itself occasionally for a year or two after it is taken out of diapers. But if your child is two and a half or three years old and still indulges in bed-wetting, there is an abnormal condition that needs attention.

First thing to do is to take the child to a doctor for an examination to determine if there is anything physically or organically wrong. If there isn't, and usually this is the case, then I would look to some emotional disturbance for the cause.

Too many parents notice that their child is nervous and dismiss it with the observation that it is an inherited trait. That isn't being honest with yourself. Nervousness isn't inherited. True, the child may inherit nervous tendencies, but the tendencies won't develop until the child runs into something that he cannot adjust himself to. The parents must overcome these things for the child, he can't.

It is a parent's duty to see that everything is done to help a child adjust himself to his environment. If he doesn't achieve this adjustment, then he will be nervous and upset. Any bed-wetting is often an indication of this nervous upset.

Fruit Shipments To Europe Will Suffer Heavily

California Economist Predicts Lean Exports For At Least Decade

(International News Service)
SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Disrupted fruit shipments to Europe will not return to normal for a decade, regardless of war developments, according to Dr. H. R. Wellman, University of California economist.

None of the three alternatives of the war outcome presented by Dr. Wellman give a prosperous outlook for the farmer.

"If the axis powers win the war," he said, "the United States would probably be isolated in a totalitarian world. It would mean a serious curtailment of agricultural exports, particularly fruits, and the powerful nations would use international trade as a weapon to win political and economic domination."

In the event England should win, or at least avoid defeat, it is doubtful, he said, if valuable shipping space would be given to fresh and canned fruits.

A long war will leave Europe bankrupt and exhausted, he added, and the buying power will be pitifully small.

Guardsmen At Grove City Will Enter Training

Mobilization Ordered On February 17—Will Go To Indiantown Gap

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, Feb. 4.—Capt. Frank Poehlman, who has commanded Grove City's larger National Guard unit, Regimental Headquarters Company of the 112th Infantry, since 1928, is transferred to the regimental staff, and First Lieut. James A. Griffith assumes command of the company on the eve of mobilization for active service, February 17. This order was issued at a meeting of regimental officers, held at Kane.

Captain Poehlman's transfer severs a connection of 34 years with the local company, and removes the last man from the roster who served in France during the World War. He enlisted as a private in 1907, served in France with another unit, but was commissioned in the Guard in 1921 and took command in 1928.

Lieutenant Griffith has been with the company since 1921, serving in all the non-commissioned ranks prior to receiving his commission. Official orders to mobilize at the State Armory here on February 17, and to remain there for a week or 10 days prior to moving to Indiantown Gap for a year of field training, have been received here.

The average age of white mothers at the time of their first birth is 23 years, according to the census, while the average age of Negro mothers at first birth is 20.

The average age of white mothers at the time of their first birth is 23 years, according to the census, while the average age of Negro mothers at first birth is 20.

New Type Janitor Evolved By War

Makes Systematic Inspection Of Homes For Possible Damage From Bombings

By FRANK EGGLESTON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Feb. 4.—A new type of janitor has appeared in the West End of London.

This one neither lives in the basements of Mayfair, nor in the Belgrave mansions, neither does he empty the ashcans.

He is usually a local surveyor and valuer, who under the direction of the estate agents, will, for the nominal fee of $250, make a systematic inspection of the house (daily if the bombing of the locality has been severe), for damage caused by either shrapnel or bombs.

Starting from the tiles on the roof, he works down to the stone floors in the cellars, noting if the house has suffered in any way, and if the interior has been damaged, or if the furnishings are in danger of exposure to the weather.

The new "janitor" will make immediate arrangements for first-aid repair and attend to claims for compensation.

Anticipates Nazi "All-Out" Attack On Britain

Weather Large Factor In Date

Official Of R. A. F. Discusses Expected Air Blitzkrieg Upon England

LULL IN WARFARE DUE TO WEATHER

By JAMES E. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Feb. 4.—With admitted numerical superiority in the air, Nazi Germany will launch its "all out" attack upon Britain as soon as the weather and other circumstances are propitious, a high ranking officer of the royal air force said Monday.

In a special interview with American correspondents, arranged to put an end to the flood of "fearsome rumors" which have spread during the lull in German air raids for the last two weeks, the officer maintained that the R. A. F. remains master of the Luftwaffe despite inferior numbers.

Quality Vs. Quantity
"The issue is, 'Will again be one of quality versus quantity.' The present comparative lull in air warfare, he said, is due almost entirely to weather conditions. Both sides are profiting by the respite to consolidate strength."

"It is quite feasible," he said, "that Germany will attempt invasion as soon as weather and other conditions become propitious—most likely in the spring."

"There is not the slightest doubt that the R. A. F. again will prove master of the Luftwaffe."

Ice, snow and fog have grounded both the British and German air forces night after night, he said. German-held airdromes in northern France have been particularly hard hit by the weather.

Ice, snow and fog have grounded both the British and German air forces night after night, he said. German-held airdromes in northern France have been particularly hard hit by the weather.

Watch For Surprises

The spokesman took occasion to warn observers to watch the situation in France, the Mediterranean and northern Africa rather than Britain for possible new surprises.

Unexpectedly, the officer soft-pedaled recent declarations like that of Air Marshal Sir Cyril Newall who said that the end of night bombings is in sight.

Both Britain and Germany are racing for a solution and this country is believed to have a slight edge, he said, but added:

"There is nothing in the present situation to justify recent optimistic promises."

While admitting the Luftwaffe's numerical superiority, which will continue until March 1 at least, the spokesman insisted the R. A. F. would not be overwhelmed in any new daylight mass assaults "on March 1 or any other date."

R. A. F. Ahead Technically

On the basis of latest information, he said, the R. A. F. is still far ahead of the Luftwaffe in technical superiority, not excepting the most modern German machines.

Dispersal of many German units in Rumania, Italy and Sicily was cited as indicating improbability of an immediate invasion attempt. He referred to the "interesting situation" developing in the Far East where Japan is creeping ever-nearer to Singapore—"a matter not without interest to Britain and the United States."

American fighting planes, he said, have lost only a fraction of their performance by modifications made in Britain. Britain's supply of pilots is "good," he said, but more and more American-made machines are needed for replacements. He warned against over-optimistic forecasts of the number of American craft in sight.

"They are not so many as you think or we hope we are going to get," he said.

The R. A. F. veteran said he did not believe Germany would try mass daylight raids this year except as part of a general invasion plan. German losses in previous mass daylight raids were so heavy, he said, that "we'd be glad if they'd try them again."

Mother-Infant Son Killed In Crash Of Autos

Three Others Seriously Injured As Speeding Cars Crash Head-On Near Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 4.—A mother and her baby son were dead and three others were suffering from serious injuries today as the result of a head-on collision on Route 51 in Baldwin township.

The dead were Mrs. Rosalie Hodgson, 36, and her 17-months-old son, Thomas Charles.

Injured were Arthur T. Hodgson, 36, husband of the dead woman, who was reported in "critical" condition; his father, Sheldon Hodgson, 60, reported in "serious" condition, and Walter A. Gollwitzer, 40, of Clarion, R. D. 1, driver of the second car, suffered serious head injuries.

Authorities said they were at a loss to explain the cause of the accident, as the highway is three lanes in width at the point where the crash occurred. That both cars must have been traveling at a high rate of speed was evident from the twisted, smashed wreckage of the cars, police said.

Witnesses said that at first it was thought necessary to tear the wreckage apart with acetylene torches to recover the bodies of the mother and son.

No Tax Increases Ahead For State

Such Is Promise Of Governor James In Presentation Of Record Budget

DEFENSE BOOM AIDS PROGRAM IN STATE

By EVERETT GERRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—Gov. Arthur H. James in his record-breaking budget of $542,000,000 for 1941-43 today promised to pay off the state government's "mortgage" without increasing taxes.

To taxpayers he even held out hope of a tax reduction at the close of his administration, and possibly earlier. Completion of the budget program given to the legislature should set the stage for "a huge tax reduction," the governor asserted.

Governor James contended his huge budget—$5,000,000 higher than the sum he recommended last biennium—will maintain Pennsylvania's high relief standard, enable the state to do its share in national defense, absorb debts and obligations, and help balance the books.

Any improvement resulting from the defense boom will be passed on to the taxpayers, promised the governor in his budget message to the legislature.

"If at any time during my term as governor it becomes clear that our estimates are too conservative, and that our tax receipts will substantially exceed our needs, I will take immediate steps to correct our financial program and cut taxes accordingly, even if a special session for that purpose is necessary," he said.

Governor James estimated that the state's direct relief bill will average at least $5,000,000 monthly for the next two years. Some skeptics said that this was an extremely conservative figure, since the cost of relief now averages about $7,000,000 monthly.

Democrats Open Budget Attack

State Democratic Chairman Asails Budget Presented By Governor

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—Democrats today opened a vigorous attack upon the biennial budget presented to the legislature last night by Gov. Arthur H. James.

"The fraud in the governor's so-called budget for the 1941-43 biennium is as transparent as the cloak of liberalism he has recently assumed," stated Democratic State Chairman Meredith Meyers.

Meyers said the governor's relief budget for the new biennium "is short by at least $50,000,000 and probably by $60,000,000."

Lending action to these words, Democratic Floor Leader Leo A. Acherman, of Stroudsburg, introduced in the house an appropriation measure calling for $210,000,000 for relief, $79,000,000 more than that asked by Governor James.

OCTETTE CLUB HAS MEETING ON MONDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 4.—Mrs. Carl Kamperman pleasantly entertained members of the Octette club, Monday evening at her home, Wayne avenue.

Three guests were present: Mrs. Dorothy Owens, Mrs. H. J. Myers, and Mrs. Theodore Knauff. Card playing was the diversion, the high score prize falling to Mrs. Dorothy Owens. Mrs. Lee Sekulski received the club prize.

A delicious repast was served to the group by Mrs. Kamperman, with the assistance of Mrs. Lee Sekulski.

In two weeks, Mrs. Clifford McDanel, of North Sewickley, will be hostess.

The contest will be played at Beaver Falls, beginning with a preliminary game between the two Reserves teams at 7 o'clock. Beaver Falls uses the man for man defense and the Newton crew seems to do much better against a team using that defense than they do against the zone defense.

INCOME TAX
IN A NUTSHELL

EXEMPTIONS ALLOWED
COUPLES MARRIED DURING
TAXABLE YEAR

The credit for dependents as well as the personal exemption is required to be prorated where a change of status occurs during the taxable year, and these credits are allowable not only for the purpose of computing the normal tax but also the surtax. A fractional part of a month is to be disregarded unless it amounts to more than half a month, in which case it is considered a month.

For example, a single man and a single woman who were married on July 20, 1940, and lived together during the remainder of the year would be entitled to a personal exemption of $1,796.67 in a joint return for the calendar year 1940, which amount is seven-twelfths of $800 for the husband while single, plus seven-twelfths of $800 for the wife while single, plus five-twelfths of $2,000 for the period during which they were married. If separate returns are filed, each is entitled to a personal exemption of $888.88, which is seven-twelfths of $800, plus one-half of five-twelfths of $2,000. If during the year 1940 the husband or the wife had the status of the head of a family prior to their marriage, he or she would be entitled to his or her pro rata of the personal exemption of $2,000 allowed the head of a family for the period prior to their marriage instead of merely that allowed a single person.

However, for the period of their marriage any exemption to which either might be entitled as the head of a family would be merged in the joint personal exemption for that period. The joint personal exemption allowable in the case of a couple who were married and living together during the entire year may not exceed $2,000.

If a child under 18 years of age reaches the age of 18 years during the taxable year, the credit of $400 is required to be prorated in the same manner as the personal exemption. For example, should the child's eighteenth birthday fall on June 30, the parent would be entitled to claim $200 credit for the dependent child—that is, one-half of $400. The same rule applies to other dependents where a change of status occurs during the taxable year.

Ted Delarado To Box Horne

Spectacular Match Should Result When They Box Monday

REALE AND BAXTER BILLED FOR ACTION

One of the most promising A. A. U. boxing matches that could have been arranged in this section of the country was put through yesterday when Sonny Horne of Niles and Ted Delarado of East Liverpool agreed to box next Monday night in The Arena.

Horne captured the 147-pound championship of the Cleveland Plain Dealer tournament last week. Ted is said to possess the welterweight championship of West Virginia. Both are game, tote a knock-out punch and the battle should prove one of the best yet staged here.

Sonny was scheduled to box here several weeks ago, contracted the flu, but got over it in time to win the P. D. title. Ted claims he was not in fit condition when he was out-edged by Billy Garrett, the Diamond Belt king in December and hopes to regain his prestige by winning Monday night.

New Brighton Boxer On Card
Russell Baxter, local fighter who has had a long run of success will box George King of New Brighton and Billy Reale also of this city, will oppose Buddy Burke, a Pittsburgh middleweight. These three matches promise the kind of action fans crave.

There will be eight bouts to benefit the Prevention of Infantile Paralysis fund.

Layden To Become Pro Football Czar, Quits Notre Dame

By H. C. WARREN

(International News Service Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—College football lost one of its most famous personalities and the University of Notre Dame lost its athletic director and head gridiron coach today with the announcement by Elmer Layden that he had accepted the post of commissioner of the National Professional Football League.

Layden's appointment as the first "czar" of the professional football world, in which he will have powers comparable to those exercised in organized baseball by Judge K. M. Landis, came with startling suddenness. His contract with Notre Dame expired last week, but officials of the university had said that "a new contract was waiting for his signature," and his resignation was totally unexpected.

Five-Year Job
The famed mentor's contract with the pro league becomes effective March 1, and is for five years at an annual salary of $20,000. In a statement, Layden said:

"I naturally am happy that the club owners of the National Football League have picked me to direct their organization for the next five years. I am deeply indebted to my alma mater, Notre Dame, for the years of consideration and co-operation I have enjoyed as student, athlete and coach. It is with regret that I leave the university. The future welfare of my family influenced my decision."

"The National Football League is the fastest growing institution in American sports. I hope and believe I can be helpful in the further development of the organization. We shall continue to safeguard the status of intercollegiate football. There is a place for both games."

The club owners said today that the office of president of the National League, now occupied by Carl L. Storch of Dayton, O., will not be disturbed.

Layden as a football player won nation-wide fame as the fullback of the famous Four Horsemen of Notre Dame, teaming with Harry Stuhldreher, now director of athletics at the University of Wisconsin, Jimmy Crowley, present head football coach at Fordham University, and Don Miller, now an attorney at Cleveland, O. He was appointed coach at Notre Dame in 1933, succeeding Heartley "Hunk" Anderson, at present line coach of the Chicago Bears, world professional champions. His Irish teams won 47, lost 13 and tied 3 games.

Seek New Coach
Officials at Notre Dame are expected to start action today on the selection of a successor to Layden. According to reports from South Bend, Hugh O'Donnell, president of Notre Dame, will return immediately from California where he has been vacationing to participate in the conference.

Several names have already been advanced as probable successors. These include Stuhldreher, Crowley, Frank Leahy, coach of Boston College; Jimmy Phelan, coach of the University of Washington; Charles (Gus) Dorais, coach at the University of Detroit; Dr. Eddie Anderson, director of athletics at the University of Iowa; Buck Shaw, coach at Santa Clara; Charles Bachman, coach at Michigan State, and M. J. "Clipper" Smith, coach at Villa Nova, all of whom are former Notre Dame men.

RANGERS WANT GAMES
The newly organized Rangers basketball team would like to play any of the following teams: St. Michaels, Old Furnace, Fannins, K. Pulaski, Ellwood Shelby "B" team, Flamingrove. The team is made up of former New Castle and Union High stars as follows: Joe Chiafullo, Scotty Morrison, Jake McGary, Huck Davies, Tom Strausbaugh, Fred Marcella, Francis Adams, and Vic Ross. For games call 2641 and ask for Coach Vinnie Gallagher.

GENEVANS WANT GAMES
The Genevans basketball team would like to arrange floor games with all fast teams in Lawrence county and vicinity. For games contact Pete Maturo at 4216-J. The team is made up of Geneva College men as follows: Walcott, ex-high star of Beaver Falls, McCaugherty of Rochester, Latiano, Watt, Maturo and Tintman.

In the second game the First Baptist team trimmed the Mahoning Methodist team 31 to 26, with the bulk of the scoring being done by Campbell, Riley and Brest for the victors and Wilson, Denny and Standish for the losers.

ANDERSON SATISFIED WITH COACHING IOWA
(International News Service)
IOWA CITY, Ia., Feb. 4.—Dr. Eddie Anderson, head football coach at the University of Iowa and prominently mentioned as a possible successor to Elmer Layden at Notre Dame, said today he is "perfectly satisfied" with his present post. He added that he has no intention of leaving the Hawkeye school.

Thirty-three players were in the basketball line-up for the Danville High School, Illinois, in one game recently.

Skate-Sailing

On many a Pennsylvania lake, pond or river skate-sailing is an enjoyable sport these days. The sail, manipulated by the skater, picks up any breeze and furnishes motive power for the operator. A tremendous speed is attained by some skaters.

Random sport sheris: Westminster's Titans are toying with the rarest of sport rarities—an undefeated basketball season. Grover Washabaugh, the Titans' mentor, shudders and then turns his back when anyone mentions the feat. "We're playing each game as it comes, letting the future take care of itself. Naturally we'd like to win them all. It's better to take them one at a time instead of playing the last game of the season now," Washabaugh says.

We are still sticking to an early prediction that the Titans will turn the trick. Winner of nine in a row, Westminster's biggest hurdle is Waynesburg which is listed for two battles. In addition to the Jackets, the Titans wish hoop shots with Indiana (tonight), West Chester, Millersville, Juniata (twice), Youngtown, Geneva, Bethany, Slippery Rock and Garfield Tech. In the meantime, we all have our fingers crossed.

French Freak Headlines Three Bout Show; Opening Scrap At 8:30 O'Clock

Arrangements are being made to accommodate a capacity crowd Wednesday night when "The Angel" headlines a three-bout professional wrestling show at The Arena. The first scrap starts at 8:30 o'clock.

Advance sale reports indicate that a full house will assemble to watch the French freak in action. Lord Albert Mills, the former British amateur champion, meets the odd looking athlete in a 10 six-minute round match.

The semi-final spot, an eight six-minute bout affair, is an attraction in itself. "Gus" Sonnenberg, who wrestled the world's championship from the proud brow of Strangler Lewis, way back in 1929, grapples with one of the meanest performers of the mat, Abe "King Kong" Kashy, dark-skinned Syrian.

Rounding out the most outstanding pro mat show ever presented here, "Iron" Man Talun, a Polish giant, tackles Pete Baltran, billed as a vicious roughhouse mat artist. The opening bout is a six six-minute number.

All bouts will be staged under the new Australian round system.

Undefeated Titans Face Two Hard Games

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 4.—Westminster college cagers will try for their tenth and eleventh straight victories this week when they meet the Indiana cagers at Indiana tonight, and tackle the powerful Waynesburg Wolfpack on the New Wilmington floor Saturday night, February 8.

The Titans have already defeated the Indians 45-34 in an early season game, with Lee Fox, Westminster forward, leading the scoring with 16 points; but the Indians will be tough on their own floor. The only Indian defeat of the 1941 season was the Titan victory, the only Teachers defeat in seven games.

Westminster was forced to abandon its zone-defense in the Indiana game, and turn to man-to-man play to prevent the Indians from over-coming an early 9-0 lead.

Largest hurdle the Titans have to face, however, this week, is the Waynesburg contest. In the past two years, the Wolfpack has handed the Titans four straight defeats: 42-38 and 48-45 last year, and 71-56 and 46-45 two years ago. The Waynesburg cagers have lost only two games this season, to the strong Alderson-Broadbent quintet and to W. & J.

Statistics would give the Westminster team an edge over Waynesburg, but since the Titans have defeated both of the teams that have scored wins over the Jackets.

It was Ken Griffith's 27 points that defeated the Jackets in the Waynesburg-Alderson Broadbent game, the same Griffith that the Titans held to four field goals.

Probable starters for the Titans will be "Buzz" Ridl and Lee Fox, forwards; Wask, center, and Dumire and Spak, guards. Fred Miller, tall Conneville center, may get the call to start one of the contests.

Factor Girls Win Game At Warren

The Factor girls basketball team went to Warren, Ohio last night and defeated the strong Regas Girls club team 15 to 10. The variety girls held the losers to a lone field goal the other eight points being made on fouls.

Kate Smith was the Factor star with seven of the points. Jerry Gail had five of the points, and for the losers the work of Ann Kirvonak and Martha Stein was the best. The first period ended 6 to 2. The half was 8 to 5 in favor of the Factors. The third period closed 12 to 8. This was the third straight for the Factors.

On Wednesday evening, New Wilmington is to face Wampum High on Shelby floor, Ellwood City, in a clash that may involve first place. The game was originally billed for January 28 but was canceled.

Section 20 activities will end earlier than usual. February 18 is listed as the closing date, but at least one or two postponed clashes will be played after that date.

Tonight's Shenango-Mt. Jackson postponed fray will be played on February 21 at Mt. Jackson.

If the Section 20 time ends on February 21, the loop will be the first member of the WPAL to wind up activities at such an early date. Local teams got the jump by starting earlier than usual.

High-Alumni Play Tonight

New Castle Will Play Former Stars In Warm-Up Game, Reserves Play Preliminary

ALIQUIPPA NEXT IN SECTION THREE

New Castle high school basketball team will play the Alumni team tonight at Washington High gym to get in shape for the next Section Three game that takes them to Aliquippa next Friday night. In the preliminary game tonight at 7 o'clock the High Reserves will play the New Castle Indies.

The former high stars will be coached by John "Rags" Gennock and will have a strong lineup available. A great many of the boys who will play with the Alumni tonight have been playing a fast brand of independent basketball ever since graduating and will give the present high team a tough evening.

The next Section Three game at home will be on next Tuesday night with Beaver Falls playing here.

Lineups In Doubt
Neither Coach Phil Bridenbaugh nor Coach Gennock were certain about a starting lineup, although the high team will no doubt have Le and Thomas at the forwards, Cooper at center and Christopher and Tomalelo at the guards.

In the Alumni lineup will no doubt be such great stars as George "Pop" Adams, Johnny Carik, Eddie Koszela, Henry Koszela, Flash Wenda, Dal Mumford, Davey Greer, Marion Sniezek, Eddie Nahas, Elmer "Zeke" Wainio, Joe Cooper, Harry Toscano, Al Buccell, Ernie Adamo and Linda-Walls.

Section 20 Teams Near Finish Tape

Closing Date Is February 18; East Brook At Wampum Tonight

Section 20 aggregations start edging closer to the finish tape tonight. Two important clashes grace the sports calendar. At New Wilmington, the league leading "Greyhounds" face a determined Bessemer combination while East Brook journeys to Shelby auditorium, Ellwood City, to tussle with tough Wampum High.

Chance For Upset
Chances of a Bessemer victory are imminent since the college towners have lost the services of Paul Minner and "Kenny" Cathcart. Minner has been derailed for the remainder of the season due to a fractured wrist, while Cathcart is convalescing from an attack of measles. Minus the pair, New Wilmington's offense isn't as prolific as it usually is, while the defense isn't too impervious.

Bessemer has found its stride and may hand the Wilmington favorites a second league setback. The "Greyhounds" today head the procession with five victories against a lone defeat. Wampum, however, is proving a stubborn challenger with only two reversals chalked against it.

Wampum Set
In top physical condition, Wampum bids for an important triumph over East Brook. A Wampum win may "up" the Cementers within a stone's throw from New Wilmington, provided the "Greyhounds" hit the skids. The Brookers, still potential titlists, entertain hopes of pulling another surprise.

The Shenango-Mt. Jackson fracas, billed for Mt. Jackson floor, has been postponed. Mt. Jackson High officials have announced. The game will be played on Friday, February 21.

Union Township High steps out of town, facing Sandy Lake High.

WOMAN PREPARES TO CELEBRATE HER 110TH BIRTHDAY

SAPULPA, Okla., Feb. 4.—Lizzie Devers, who says she winked at General Sherman as he rode past her during his march through Georgia, claims she will celebrate her 110th birthday May 1.

Part Seminole Indian and Irish, she came west in the 80's. She knew Wild Bill Hickok, Calamity Jane and General Sam Houston. She said she was married nine times.

Lizzie lives in a hilltop house, that she built herself, overlooking the main highway near Sapulpa. An aging son lives with her. She walks to town once a day and takes care of her garden. She rode in an airplane last year, but said she didn't enjoy it. Rouse on women is one of her pet hates.

Steadier Tone In Day's Market

Rallying Power Is Somewhat Limited—Some Changes Recorded

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The stock market developed a steadier tone today but rallying power was limited. Many active leaders scored fractional gains after a slow start. While advances in a few cases ran to a point, there were a number of declines.

Bethlehem, U. S. Steel and Youngstown scored fractional gains. DuPont advanced a point in a firm market for chemicals. Chrysler was up slightly. General Motors was unchanged.

Fractional gains predominated in rails and coppers. Glenn Martin was backward in aviation. North American and U. G. I. slipped in utilities. American Can, Eastman Kodak and Sears Roebuck also were lower. Oils worked higher.

Cotton gave ground. Grains were steady, and minor commodities dull. Australian and Panama bonds were strong in an otherwise colorless bond market. The London stock market was quiet and firm.

Tours—Battered

This map of France shows the location of Tours, within occupied France (shaded). It has just been revealed that Tours, first French capital after Paris fell, was the first city subjected to an all-out air attack by the German air force, such as was later inflicted on Coventry, England. Scarcely a building in the entire city escaped demolition or damage, but Germany kept the horrible destruction a secret. (Central Press)

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)
Copyright 1940 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Here's Dr. Filippo Tommaso Marinetti at it again, with his celluloid hat, with handle and bumper, his lop-sided suit with one button and a red hot new poem in praise of the beauty of war. Neither Ed Wynne nor Joe Cooke had anything to do with the costume, or the poem. It is merely that the world has come a long way in Dr. Marinetti's direction, since he first envisioned a cosmic squirrel cage, and he makes the first page by starting a rumpus in a Roman theatre because they were playing Thornton Wilder's "Our Town."

He blew a police whistle and denounced the play as the offering of a feeble and decadent democracy, doomed to fall before the cleansing flame of fascism. The play went on, and so did the poor old crippled democracy which so enraged the poet, up to this moment, at any rate.

Dr. Marinetti is one of the chiefs of the Italian Academy of Arts. Not wishing to entrust his poems to any-thing as perishable as paper, he blacksmiths them out on a sheet of tin, as the only fitting and safe receptacle for such virile sentiments. He has an impressive library of iron-bound, red-hot tin war poems, which he says, embody not only the resurgence of the master race of Italy but the clanging apostrophe of a new Caesarism which must sweep away like refuse any cowardly breeds who dare to obstruct it.

The harsh tin ripple of the little doctor's poems summons Italy to a new day. Last year, due to other dynamic diversions, the little doctor was slipping. He had gone to Ethiopia and come back with little glory and a bad case of stomach ulcers. He might have been forgotten had not the divine afflatus of boiler factory poetry stirred again within him. Catching the war mood at white heat, he forged a poem which brought him instantly back into public favor. Just try this on your concrete-mixed:

"Tower, cannon, virility, volleys, erection, telemeter, ecstasy, tumb-tumb—there seconds—tumb tumb—wave smiles birth of laughter chic cham plaff plaff gluglugis playing at hide and seek."

Perhaps there was some loss in translation, or possibly a bit of static, but that's a fair rendering of the start of the virile doctor's poem. One trouble with the world seems to be that there are too many people who say they understand him perfectly. He has pioneered villages with perfume emanating from a central plant, the citizens stimulated to frenzy or lulled into lotus-land slumbers by the central controls of this pervasive magic.

As we have indicated, Ed Wynne or Joe Cooke would get him the moment he came down the gangplank, if he should head this way. Perhaps it would best to let it go at that. In the opinion of this commentator, it would be a mistake for us to assess aberrations of Dr. Marinetti against the Italian people, even with his tin poems and handle-bar hat.

We have always maintained a sizeable and varied squirrel-cage of our own. There are many among us who can remember the days of Don Marquis' Hermione, the ga-ga excitements of dementia praecox art, the new dynamics of futurism and attendant and derivative nonsense which might have made Dr. Marinetti feel quite at home in our sedate old Greenwich village. No, it isn't always discreet for the pot to call the kettle cock-eyed.

The noble sanity and beauty of the immortal art of Italy remains, whatever the mugging and posturing and screaming of these demomiac years. The deep, creative intelligence of the Italian people remains, no matter what the distortion and subversion of its fake dynamists and first-page detonators. In fairness to the Italian people, we should not stress too greatly this or that clown or eccentric who may be out in front.

We may consider, instead, Dr. Carlo Sforza, who participated in that moving radio symposium which hymned the Whitman theme of an enduring America. Dr. Sforza, minister to France when the Fascist regime took power, has been and is a brave, informed and effective champion of democracy, ally and friend of democratic America, an evangel of human civilization.

We believe that in this he is in no way recreant to his own country. We believe that the human resources of all great civilizations, including that of Italy and our own, will some day prevail against the egocentric delirium of the absolutist state, and the mad distortions of absolutist art and pseudo-philosophy. I have an idea that you will see what I mean if you stop to chat with Michele Romano who runs the corner green-goods store and ask him in a friendly way about the signora and the six bambinos.

Greenville Man Still Missing

Police Search Diligently For Missing Victor G. Deissler, Greenville Manufacturer

(International News Service)

GREENVILLE, Pa., Feb. 4.—

Authorities of two states today continued their search for Victor G. Deissler, 43, inventor and manufacturer of refrigerator parts, who was believed to have met with foul play.

Last seen two night ago when he left his home to deposit $600 in his office safe, police in Pennsylvania and Ohio today were apparently still without a clue as to his whereabouts.

His office was found ransacked and smeared with blood stains.

His new car was later recovered in Youngstown, O., where residents said they saw it pull up early in the morning and then saw a single man leave it. Thirty employees of the Deissler Machine Company joined in the search late yesterday.

The death rate of negro babies under one year of age has declined from 192 per 1000 births in 1915 to 77.9 in 1938, according to the Census Bureau. During the same period the death rate of white babies under one year has declined from 98 to 47.1.

Germany Reports British Air Base Scene Of Attack

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Feb. 4.—German planes yesterday bombed the British air base at Mildenhall and airdromes at East Wretham, Newmarket and Honington, destroying seven R.A.F. planes and seriously damaging 12 others, it was stated authoritatively in Berlin today.

Hangars at the airdromes also were damaged, it was claimed, and war-important objectives in the London area were bombed repeatedly.

In addition, an industrial plant on the southeastern English coast was bombed and damaged, officials said.

A military commentary issued by the official German news agency (DBN) stated that German long-distance shelling by "Big Berthas" mounted on the French coast has produced especially effective results at Folkestone in England.

The Republican-controlled senate passed its first bill when it approved 32 to 15 a Democratic-sponsored measure to increase the membership of the joint state government commission from 17 to 24. The measure was sent to the house for consideration.

Under the proposal of Sen. John
H. Dent, Westmoreland Democrat, the committee would be composed of 12 Republicans and 12 Democrats.

A misunderstanding that began during the special session of 1940 was ended when the Department of Public Assistance furnished the senate with a 19-page report showing the extent of collections made under the $2000 reimbursement agreement required that property-owning relief applicants are compelled to sign before benefits are granted.

The report was requested in a resolution sponsored by Sen. John J.
Haluska, Cambria Democrat, who has frequently termed the $2000
bond "unjust and unfair."

Immediately after the state relief authorities furnished the report, Haluska asked that a resolution be adopted asking the Public Assistance Department not to require relief applicants to cancel life insurance policies in excess of $500 before benefits are granted. The resolution was referred to committee.

Sen. Franklin Spencer Edmonds,
Philadelphia Republican, introduced a bill that proposed control of municipal authorities by the Public Utility Commission.

Under Edmonds' proposal, municipalities seeking to purchase a utility must have the purchase price approved by the P. U. C.

The senate adopted unanimously
Edmonds' resolution calling for a complete survey of the accomplishments of the general state authority including costs, bonds issued and the rates of interest.

Two more reported burglaries today were laid at the hands of Bartholomew, alias Bert Wells, Poplar street, and Louis Forsythe, North Walnut street, according to city detectives and State Motor police who put Wells through a grilling at police headquarters today.

According to an asserted confession of Wells, both young men robbed the Regent theater, January 23, and the Court Shoe shine, January 9.
They obtained $13.25 in the Regent and $44.60 in the Court Shoe shine.

Several nights ago the youths were captured by Patrolman Nick Cubellis in the Tydol gasoline station, South Mill street, which they had entered after having also broken into the Love Coal company office.

State motor police on duty here joined in the search today to locate Victor G. Deasler, missing from Greenville. After his disappearance his office was found blood-stained and his auto was assertedly found in Youngstown. According to reports, blood also was found in the auto.

The motor police are combing all of Lawrence county's lonely roads and also searching vacant houses.

Reports from Greenville claim the 43-year-old inventor and manufacturer Sunday went to his office to deposit $600 he had brought back from a business trip to Buffalo.

Belief is expressed that Deasler recognized a would-be robber, that he had been beaten and then taken away in his own auto.
